MEMO

Tax on Vehicles and Animals

The mileage of roads (both metal and gravel) within the City limits is large and it is increasing day by day on account of Extensions which are being laid out on all sides Most of these roads have been laid out broad to facilitate traffic which is getting heavier and heavier as the trade and industries develop Besides the cost of upkeep of roads in the City has increased enormously due to abnormal rise in the cost of materials and rates of wages Thus there is a heavy growing demand on Municipal funds for maintenance charges It is therefore but natural and right that taxes hitherto levied should be suitably increased both on internal as well as external traffic

2 Government have provisionally sanctioned the enhancement by 50 per cent of the rates of tolls levied on external traffic Same reasons are applicable to the tax on internal traffic also on vehicles and animals Their rates also may be suitably enhanced Statement I shows at a glance the maximum rates leviable under the Municipal Regulation the rates of taxes now levied in this City, those prevailing in Bangalore City and those which may be levied in future It will be seen therefrom that the proposed rates are by no means exorbitant considering the rise in prices all round and the increased charges for maintenance of the roads in the City

3 Statement II shows the number of vehicles and animals subject to taxation at present An income of Rs 7 500 in round figures is now being realised under this head An increase of Rs 4,500 per annum may be anticipated if the revised rates are given effect to 4 Heavy motor lorries which are now in use in the City, very badly tear up the roads and cause considerable damage At present, the maximum tax leviable on them is Rs 30 per annum A heavier tax would be justified, but it would require the amendment of the Regulation itself.
